Join with friends around the world to learn, discuss and explore climate action

This interactive event will include a breakout session and will be held in English with Spanish translation.

This event is hosted by Interfaith Glasgow and Interfaith Scotland.

As we reach the time of what should have been the COP26 in Glasgow, our final session will offer a space for dialogue on faith-based climate action.

We will share and reflect on stories of hope in action from faith communities around the world. The session will offer interactive opportunities for participants, facilitating connections and raising motivation for the year ahead.
